

The Place We Met – Scripting

How the Place We Met Works:

Once you login to the system, you can initiate a search by entering a date range and typing a short paragraph. Use specific words that the person you are trying to find might also use. For example: “We were both in the drama club. Your favorite actor is Brad Pitt.” This helps our system in cases where there might be many matches.

For example, if you were trying to connect with an old college friend, you might use a 4 year time frame & the college location. If there are multiple matches, specific words can narrow down your search: BRAD PITT DRAMA CLUB.

For location, the system currently allows a distance from a center point of up to FIVE KILOMETRES. Obviously, a smaller distance and time frame is better from the point of view of narrowing down possible matches. To lock in a location, you simply click a link that appears in the search box just above your search paragraph. The link says “Get Location.” After you click on it, your device will ask if the APP has permission to get the location. Once you give permission, the APP will input the GPS location.

Please note that you MUST use a portable device like a phone to lock in the location! Desktops and laptops often don’t give accurate locations.

We will be adding functionality to allow you to simply input a GPS location, but this is not available in the first MVP version of the APP. Many map systems will give you the GPS coordinates for almost any location on earth! Hopefully, we will have this input capability before too much longer.

The system will email you when a match is found, based on location & date range. It never hurts to also login periodically to check for matches, in case you didn’t spot our email.

See General Value Statements Next Page

The Place We Met – Scripting

General Value Statements

The Place We Met is the ultimate missed connections APP!

There is nothing on earth like The Place We Met for finding people from your past!

It's critical that you help us promote this APP if you are serious about finding somebody!

This APP will spread VERY quickly if people like you support those promoting it.

The Place We Met is extremely easy to use!

A date range, a location and a short paragraph is all you need to set up a search.

Once you set up a search, just watch for an email indicating you have a match!

The Place We Met is going to help people around the world reconnect!

You can find out if somebody likes you too without risk!

It's not really a dating site, but there is a dating/relationship aspect

We can help you go back in time to any past date to help you reconnect!

Find old high school friends!

Find somebody you used to work with!

Find somebody from your past that you were romantically interested in!

You can't find somebody from your past unless they hear about his APP, please donate!

Any donation helps! Every little bit helps!

There is a link on the site to donate. Please be generous!

The Place We Met – Scripting

The Place we Met Dating Aspects

The Place We Met uses a combination of real life meeting combined with an online component. The great thing about it is that you already know you're interested in the person you want to connect with! However, instead of having to risk rejection by directly asking for a date, you can simply put in a connection or "search" request. If they're not interested, they'll never know that you wanted to connect. You're not sticking your neck out there and facing possible rejection. But, if they are interested and they put in a search/connection request as well, you can message through the APP and arrange a meet up! After entering the location and date range, your paragraph might be something like this:

I see you every day at Starbucks. You talk a lot about your psychology studies. Your favorite musical artist is Celine Dion and you've seen her in concert a bunch of times. You have a cat named Fluffy.

After matching based on date range and location, the system could narrow results based on a number of common key words: PSYCHOLOGY, CELINE DION, CAT, FLUFFY.

The Place We Met Public Service Value Statements

The Place We Met provides a valuable public service in helping people reconnect

We could help reconnect people that met in refugee camps

We could help people that might have met in a bomb shelter in Ukraine but then got separated.

We could help reconnect people that randomly chatted on a street corner years ago!

We could help reconnect people that met in the middle of a street festival or fairground years ago!